She discussed the short turn-around time to plan for the funds and issue an RFP.

Q: Does it have to be one agency that does both the Rapid re housing and prevention or can the agency just do one? A: They would prefer to have one agency do both. Q: Is this new money or will other programs be cut? A: No current funding to shelter programs will be cut. This is additional funding that is being discussed. Q: Have you looked at other states and how they are managing this? A: We did look at Massachusetts but they have a larger amount of funding and they have multiple grants. M. Ryan is going to a conference on Monday and Tuesday to meet with others from all over the country to see what other states are doing.
